

WHY ORGANIZATION MATTERS

From democratic energy to democratic power

A CONTEMPORARY STRATEGIC LESSON

Recent nationwide anti-Trump demonstrations demonstrated substantial democratic energy and a willingness to mobilize.

The strategic challenge is transforming that energy into lasting democratic capacity through organization, leadership development, political education, shared strategy, and permanent coordination.

THE DSF DIFFERENCE

Many organizations ask: How do we mobilize more people?

The DSF also asks: How do we build greater democratic capacity?

Crowds reveal democratic energy.
Organizations develop democratic capacity.
Together, they make democratic power possible.